Caméra de recul

A close-up photograph of a car's automatic door handle. The handle is a sleek, silver-colored metal piece with a curved, aerodynamic shape. It is mounted on a dark, glossy car door panel. The handle is shown in its retracted position, revealing a small, rectangular opening on its side. The background is a blurred, dark surface, likely the car's bodywork. The overall lighting is soft, highlighting the metallic texture of the handle.
